4. Delivery after the Last Buy

As a result of negotiation with our contract fab, we have allowed to deliver your order in installments within the term until the Last Time Ship date (October 31, 2025) mentioned above.

Customers are required to measure the quantity covering the demand for next 4 years by October 29, 2021, and plan to order in time according to its manufacturing forecast.

We are possessing wafer material at the fab, and would proceed to post-process for finishing products according to your manufacturing forecast.

For this reason, changing required delivery date must be requested at least 2 months before the first required delivery date.

In addition, recent situation of semiconductor supply chain will affect the lead time for post-process and your delivery. We recommend you to place your order in earlier timeline considering these back ground.
